

Although using cell phones and the internet have made communication easier for people to get in touch with each other, there are some negative points of using this new technology such as decreasing direct communication and face-to-face contact time due to spending a lot of time on using tell phone. In this essay I am going to consider some positive and negative points of using this technology.

In this day and age, using technological communication is one of the popular ways for people to communicate with each other over the world because it makes it easier for people to get in touch especially those who live far from each other. For instance, some people immigrate to an other country or city for living, studying or working and they ~~cannot get inlose~~ touch with their family ~~easily~~ or it becomes extremely expensive if they ~~don't~~ want to ~~use-~~ visit their family and friends in person. ~~mobile or internet.~~ Moreover, using this technology become faster communication and without any delay in their conversation.

On the other hand, it is clear that ~~each any technologies technology that are-~~ exist~~sed~~ can have many negative effects. For example people, especially youths, become addicted to using this telecommunications technology and they may prefer to talk with their friends by their cell phone even when they are in ~~the a~~ celebration or family party. Furthermore, parents are worried about their children because they spend a lot of time with-on their cell phone in their rooms instead of going out with their friends and meeting them their. They believe their children live in an unreal world and could not learn how to communicate with people face to face.

In conclusion, cell phones and the internet have made it easier for people to communicate with their family, friends or the others. However, if people do not know how they should use ~~itthem~~, ~~it they~~ can limit their direct contact and they do not learn how to get in touch with others in the real world. Hence, parents should teach their children how to ~~scheduling~~ their time .
