

Some people think that it is better to educate boys and girls in separate schools. Others, however, believe that boys and girls benefit more from attending mixed schools.

Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

The advantages and disadvantages of sending children to mix school have always been a subject of debate. Some individuals believe that single-sex schools are more suitable for pupils. On the contrary, others believe co-educational system have tremendous merits in comparison with separation school. In this article, I will discuss both points of view and clear my side.

Some argues persist that boys and girls must be separated during studying especially in Islamic countries. They have acceptable reasons for their selection. One of the main reasons is related to distraction of students when both genders were attended in same school. Another aspect that all the individuals expressed is related to sexual problems like rape or assault in an early age that may happen easily in school periphery. In addition, Islamic countries' people have positive view about single-sex school because their religious beliefs.

On the other hand, mixing schools have huge advantages in comparison with another one. All the children should prepare for their upcoming life. They must learn how to behave with other same ages and adult as soon as possible and school environments are the best place to tackle with this concern. They will learn not only how to react with opposite genders but also cooperation with them. Furthermore, by preparing mix school, governments have lower cost to build same school for both boys and girls.

To put it in a nutshell, every idea has merits and demerits and I believe co-education system is more suitable for these day and age. In this era, all societies need cooperation between two genders in proper way and even by segregating in school finally they will go to universities that have no limitation so it is much better to learn social norms to children in an early age.
