

Some people think that it is better to educate boys and girls in separate schools. Others, however, believe that boys and girls benefit more from attending mixed schools.

Discuss both these view and give your own opinion.

The role of education in our life is undeniable. That is why, individuals try to find the best way of outlining/ formulating a plan for schools some of whom assume that the government had better provide children with a co-education system. Some others, however, assert vice versa. I, personally, wholeheartedly agree with the first group.

First and foremost, members of the public considering mixed schools a beneficial choice for students opine that all of them regardless of whether they are boys or girls should be prepared to attend a society as adults and be capable of tackling their problems, thereby making them ready to behave toward their opposite sex logically without paying attention to their gender in different venues such as universities and workplaces. This ability leads to them becoming significantly more prosperous in their living. Further and even more importantly is associated with the sense of under-aged generations. If they were apart from their opposite sex at school, they would be much greedier as to it which is to the detriment of their personality. For example, researchers believe that these people will make completely wrong decisions about their partner in their future life.

On the other hand, opponents claim that due to the fact that boys' personality is different from girls, they are more energetic and noisy. In other words, they tend to fight together regularly that is not appealing for girls and even in some cases they may be scared of going schools.

On the whole, I once again reaffirm my position in regard to the benefits of studying in a mixed educational system. In addition, about the differences between girls and boys, teachers need to pay attention to their needs by considering their gender.
