

News stories on TV and in newspapers are very often accompanied by pictures. Some people say that these pictures are more effective than words. What is your opinion about this?

Today's life brings people to the way that they must be up-to-date and listen to the daily news in order to affects their daily routine. In modern society being ignorance about daily news is like that living in an abandoned island or jungle. In this age of information explosion, we are bombarded with news stories. We receive updates every second and it is impossible to read or watch all of them. In my opinion, pictures make it easy to find out what subjects we are interested in or what exactly happened around the world.

There are a lot of ways to being informed, such as press, the internet, TV, radio and some applications. These days, two convenient ways to obtain news are radio and application. Through these devices, people can be aware of news in their commute. The news includes texts, audios, videos, pictures. In the following, the efficiencies of them will be discussed.

Some argue that news must be included both texts and pictures on the newspaper or internet, although some others believe that just pictures news are useful and convenient. People against texts cite that picture news can communicate easily with them and they spend less time on reading news and immediately find out the whole context with simple pictures. Because pictures are a visual aspect of news our brain not has to require making an illustration, but some people claim that some detail information in the text can help to be informed completely.

Meanwhile, some people also say that all news must be in form of videos and audios because they who are old and have not enough literacy cannot read the news by themselves. In addition, for disabled people it is easier to have some facilities which are suited to their situations. Furthermore, it is obvious that colorful pages attract children the most and make them interested read more.

To sum up, I believe that every aspects of informing when they come together are more efficient than separated ones. By and large, pictures play a pivotal role in news and can also tell a story more vividly and make comprehension easier.
