

The world of work is changing rapidly. Working conditions today are not the same as before and people no longer rely on one job for life. Discuss the possible causes for these changes and give your suggestions for how people should prepare for work in the future.

Due to living in a high-tech era, our lifestyle has completely changed. This issue has numerous effects on our life, such that the way of doing our duties at work has changed and mostly individuals have more than one career. This short essay will elaborate on the causes of this phenomenon and some ways of being ready for job in the years to come.

First and foremost, in the past individuals used to do so arduous a task regularly, and suffer from burn out syndrome. That is why rarely did they tend to have a second job. As opposed to now, when they are mostly educated and hardly do they carry out a project manually meaning that they do their work by highly technological devices and they have more spare time which leads to them having another job, and being capable of making more money. Further and even more importantly, nowadays, members of the public enjoy higher levels of information regarding different scientific issues such as managing time or doing work in a shorter period of time. The more knowledge they have, the more beneficial ways of spending free time they choose.

Considering making people ready for having a decent job in the future, authorities had better formulate a plan for under-aged generations at school. For example, providing them with some practical courses for developing their sense of responsibility. In addition, by raising parents' awareness as to the importance of their role in their charges future, we, in fact, transform an otherwise unsuccessful person to a gifted and prosperous one.

On the whole, in my opinion having more than one job is because of broadening people's horizon. What is more, the best way to help children to have a suitable job and being prosperous is providing them with an array of related courses based on their age and ability.