

some people believe that adopting a pet is a good idea , what do you think ? explain your idea and make an example

There is no doubt that nowadays , people are alone more than the past and because of the mental and the economical situation they take less risks for having children although i do not agree with this viewpoint , some people generally think like that . In my opinion, ~~adopting~~ adopting a pet is a fantastic experience that not everyone gains it because you can understand some ~~diffrent~~ different feelings for example you can have a pet instead of a baby because it can take your loneliness away or even when your child has a sister or a brother you can get a pet for him or her . I know one of my friends is the only child and her parents got her a little cute dog and she is very happy with her .

On the other hand , some people ~~are~~ exist ~~for~~ to help ~~to~~ poor ~~pats~~ pets by buying or adopting them like some charity , for instance one of my friends bought a dog just to save ~~it~~ him from his addicted owner . His owner ~~beated~~ him when ~~owner~~ he was intoxicated .

To ~~summerize~~ summarize , in my way of thinking adopting a pet ~~it~~ depends on your view but in most cases it has been a good choice for their loneliness time or ~~another~~ stuff entertainment .
