

Nowadays many companies and factories have ~~been~~ appeared. Even though they try to present their products and services, they are always finding new ways to give information about their product to all kinds of people. Some believe that advertising in sport competition is a very helpful way to ~~inform~~ knowledge people about their products and services. Others think this is completely wasting of their time and money. It doesn't matter which way of advertising has been chosen in my opinion this requires ~~s~~ for each company. ~~In~~ below I ~~argue~~ discuss both views and give their reasons.

~~In~~ on one hand as mentioned before, some people believe this is useful advertising in sport fields. These people are convinced that if others want to buy their services and products, people should get to know about them. Also with advertising in sport competitions s and athletes ~~which have with~~ a lots of spectators, companies can sell more. Plus factories which ~~is~~ are working in health services with presenting their products in sport fields can give lots of attention.

On the other hand, some who believe that sponsorship in sport has negative point. They say always this advertising has great cost for companies and factories. Whereas with this cost companies can provide better products with lower prices s to people.

In conclusion, although advertising and sponsorship in sport has a great cost for companies, I believe that this cost helps both sports and players to have a chance to progress.
