Do you agree ro disagree with the following statement. It is more important to keep your old friends than it is to make new friends - use specific reasons and examples to support your answer.

Friends are one of the most precious gifts in our life that we cannot live without them. That's why everyone has needs a person to telling them something without being afraid ofto judgement.

In addition, they are the most impressive keys-factors in our life because some friends can help you to catch yourself up , in contrast, they can knock you down, so be careful in choosing a friend.

According to my way of thinking in my view, it is not important they are your old friends or a new one it is just depends on your personality and they theirs. you can have a new friend with a great option trait like honesty that it is the most important element between two people in any relationships.

Another important facts is that , the situation changes everything even your best and old friends, so you must find a person with stable personality stability.

In my personal experience, I made a new friend indeed she is my best friend in my whole life despite-alyhough we are have been friends for four years when i am struggling with my tough problems she always sympathizes with me and gives me peace and solutions. she never judges me and i can easily say whatever in my mind and heart. I count on her in any circumstancues circumstances and she has became become my unnon-biological sister.

Conversely, my fiftheen-years friends changed when her situation became better although i wished best things for her, she thought i was jealous on of her.

Anyway, Ultimately, a-time is the last things that you must pay attention to attend in a friendships. This is significent significant that you feel comfortable, safe, clam, honest with someone and you can be yourself, so we must attempt to find a true friend, not old friends ones.
