QUESTIONS:

1. If offered a position, when would you be able to arrive in Thailand?
(The Thai Academic year is from Late March – Late March as follows:
Late March – End April = Summer School, Early May – Early October = Semester 1, November – Late March = Semester 2, Late March – Early May = Summer Holiday)

I have already arranged my flight for Feb. 23rd to Bangkok

2. How will your previous teaching experiences qualify you to teach ESL to our Thai students?

I am well experienced in teaching different levels ranging from day care , kindergarten, elementary and highschool

3. How many years of teaching experience ‘in mainstream schools’ do you have?
(Government or private schools in your home country or overseas. This does not have reference to Language schools such as ECC, Inlingua etc.)

5 years

4. What subjects other than Language would you feel confident in teaching?
(Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, Japanese / Chinese, Physical Education, Art, Drama)

Physical Education (I was a pro Basketball player playing for Iranian national team)
Since I hold a certificate in general science(science & math) from SAMA schools, I will be able to teach in these fields.

5. If you could choose, what year levels would you feel most comfortable teaching?
(Kindergarten, Lower Primary, Upper Primary, Lower Secondary, Upper Secondary)

Elementary to Upper Intermediate

6a. Are you familiar with Outcomes based curriculum and planning?

In our training period we had a course in this area

b. Outline your ideas with reference to continuous (formative) student assessment:

I hold that we need to assess students throughout the course to prevent cramming. In my experience continuous non-formal can produce less stress and better results

c. Outline your computer competencies:

I am familiar with MS PowerPoint, Excel and Word and use them on a daily basis.

I have general internet skills (web-based apps, search engines, social networks ...)

7. Why do you want to teach in Thailand?

I have been informed that Thailand values education including English as a second language and I can therefore have the opportunity to advance my career as a teacher.

8. Have you ever lived overseas before? How do you envisage coping with a big metropolitan city where English is not widely used and the culture and ways of doing things is different? Are you ready for traffic jams, pollution, heat, communication difficulties, frustration and adventure?

Coming from Tehran, a metropolis, I am quite used to traffic and pollution as well as the other related challenges. Besides, I lived in Istanbul for 3 months, which had similar conditions. I am enthusiastic about discovering new cultures so I am undeterred by the challenges in the way.

9. Comment on these words in regards to being a teacher in a foreign country:

“Responsibility, Commitment, Reliability, Tolerance and Flexibility”.

Those words pretty much sum it up. One cannot be called a teacher without those qualities. Any successful teacher that I have seen possess those features.

10. Why have you chosen to apply to a bilingual school as opposed to an international school where the salaries are much higher?

As a newcomer in a foreign country and having processed all available positions, I

11. What are your personal qualities, which you think, would benefit our school and students?

I consider myself caring, responsible, energetic and above all patient

12. What do you think your previous / current employer would say about your work ethic and abilities as a teacher?

As mentioned in my recommendation letter, they have been satisfied with my work

13. What is your expected salary based on your qualifications and experience?

It is negotiable
