

Young people in the modern world seem to have more power and influence than any previous generation.

Why is this case?

What impact does this have on relationship between old and young people?

Nowadays, the new generation in the recent world can act very effectively compared with the old people because the world has been changed rapidly. The Youth have grew-grown up with new educational methods and can use high-tech in daily life and find themselves powerful with many-more ability-abilities than the previous generation. That is why-the reason changing the relation among-between the two generations.

Educational systems have been changed by new modern methods, as a result of which students were able to adapt and be bring-brought up more inventive in dealing with problems and living in the world. This means that the abilities of the new generation are-have improved, as against the previous generation. For example, students who have passed high school have learned two or three languages and can use the internet easily.

Also, new hardware and software are available to ease daily life and people use that in a very widespread manner namely smartphones, social media and news websites. It lead-has led to easy connection with the people who lived around the world, access to informations and update about any problems as well as their solutions. For instance board members of an I.T company in the Hong Kong can easily and rapidly find new information from the software market in the U.S.A and take on suitable strategies to deal with their components.

Moreover, playing a role as an experienced man, young people who have access to an unbounded amount of information and can search and google everything, that is why they can live as an experienced man who has many informations.

As a result, the young person can act effectively in the modern world and maybe they feel they do not need to the previous generation's experience in daily life. This means that the connection among-between the two generations is beginning to fade
