

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? In the past, young people depended too much on their parents to make decisions for them; today young people are better able to make decisions about their own lives. Use specific reasons and examples to support your answer.

It is obvious that the family is the most valuable gift that we can ever have and no one can ever deny the significant role of parents in people's life but nowadays this role has diminished a bit compared to ~~than~~ the past and I feel this is for some main reasons which I will explain with a couple of examples.

First of all, children's knowledge has increased ~~than~~ compared to the past which ~~it~~ can be extremely beneficial for them, so they might have ~~update~~ more up to date information than their parents because they ~~educating~~ are educated at a school and university, so they learn diverse ~~objects~~ subjects/areas in various subjects which ~~this~~ makes them more independent of their parents for their decisions. For instance, the number of universities and schools ~~were~~ was less than that of nowadays and also the new generation of families are more serious about ~~tended for~~ children's education.

Another point is that, technology and the Internet have a ~~positive~~ effective effect on people's awareness, so they can have ~~several~~ ample/plenty of information and even introduce them to different issues which helps them to allow their children to be more independent in their decisions. For example, my mother always follows psychology pages on Instagram and now she realizes that if she gives me freedom of actions, I will be more a successful person in the future.

Last but not least, nowadays children ~~be~~ are more rebellious and fearless which is conducive to their gaining various experiences on ~~with~~ their own in different areas. For instance, traveling to far countries with inadequate budget and without accurate planning at a young age.

To recap, today's children have more knowledge than their families and past decades' children and also technology and the Internet have ~~been~~ raised people's awareness. Although, new offsprings ~~be~~ are more rebellious and fearless, ~~it~~ this can have both advantages and disadvantages and it would be better if children consulted with their families out of respect respectfully. All of these reasons lead to ~~another~~ ~~to~~ the new generation to be more independent in making ~~to make~~ their decisions.
