

School should ask students to evaluate their teachers.

Evaluation is one of the most important fundamental elements of educational system. In this essay I will try to discuss some of its aspects of the evaluation. In general evaluation helps the school, teacherss and studentss.

The first and perhaps the most important positive effect of evaluating teachers is are good for school, because they can understand about efficiency and performance of the teacher in the class and management can get information about the students like the teachers' method for teaching and have good behavior in the class or not. It is also a way to compare the teacherss.

I think these are essential for the curriculum and helping teacherss, because they can understand the students' expectation such as how to teach, dress and behavior in the class and the way they teach and compare them to find the best method of teaching.

Evaluating teachers is one of the best exercises for the student. It leads to the students participatinge (intercommunity) in their own affairs. On the other hand, it causes improvement of self-confidence, and insight. Finally, the students find a positive attitude to strengthen their ability and self-expression in the society.

To sum up, if the evaluation is continuous, the result may be maybe reliable provided if it is done fairly, otherwise it is an unrealistic, it will offer give a good indication of up-to-date knowledge, performance and efficacy of a teacher.
