

Decisions can be made quickly, or they can be made after careful thought. Do you agree or disagree with the following statement?

The decisions that people make quickly are always wrong. Use specific reasons and examples to support your opinion.

People make decisions every day in their day-to-day activities. Some people make decisions quickly while others carefully think before making a decision. In this opinion, decisions can be made either quickly or after careful thought depending on the situation or circumstances a person finds himself in. I believe that, most of the time, decisions (that are) made in a hurry are poor ones decisions, and I think people should take their decisions after careful thought.

When we want to do something that is important, we should consider all aspects of that work, and it would be better if we thought think more on it. For example when we want to choose a new job, we should survey all aspects of that and and then we decide to choose it. By thinking before making a decision, we can reduce the chance of mistakes. Thus, we can see better results when we allocate specific time for one decision.

In addition, sometimes sharing a the decision with family, friends or close one's ones. It will get a better results. I remember that I had to choose my major of my education, so I discussed with my family and friends and used their advice, which helped me to make a correct decision however slow is the process. even though it was a slow process. On the other hand, my friend was in the same situation, because of her quick decision she couldn't follow her dreams. so makeing quickly decisions is not logical in this case.

Although the best decision is one a decision that is made make with thinking, there are those some decisions that should be made decided quickly. In many emergency situations like we face someone collapse on street the first action that we should do is call SOS or police. In this case we should act ion and decide quickly.

In conclusion, life is all about decision making, so -So, from above examples I say, it is always good to make decisions after giving careful thought. Decisions made in hastey always go wrong. The decisions what we made in past reflects what we are today and decisions that what we make today will decide our future, so -So it is always good to make decisions after giving careful thought to it.
