

What are the benefits and drawbacks of tourism

Nowadays, the best part of people's vacation vocation time in the different society-societies has been dedicated to tourism, It is a great impact on various aspects of the contemporary human's life. The global economy is clearly affected by tourism.

Tourism is an important resource for the economic prosperity in developing countries and on the financial balance between of rich and poor countries in the international economy.

Social life by creating different jobs and improving the range of changes in income levels has benefits. Tourism's impact on politics, culture, customs and all aspects and manifestations of cultural and spiritual tourists and people visiting the region is significant.

Absorbing tourists, another aspect of direction from the advantages created limitation, for example It has caused income for people who are living live around there. But another aspect is that, It has polluted the environment .Another advantages of it is meeting different people who have different languages and cultures. They meet historical places and know about their art. Tourist countries also will have heavy traffics in those areas. Travelling needs enough money that causes more benefits for touristm countries. Tourism brings about because of overcrowding, leading to traffic jams and - pollution caused by traffic and created presenting a risk of psychological effects on people's cultural changes.

Promotion e of peace and international security, national unity and the creation of an open democracy are the positive effects of on tourism.

Tourism can help to reduce political tensions and establish world peace. The idea is that tourists create / bring about cause a sense of friendship and a higher sense of patriotism more cultural homeland and honor among the people.